

Walkable Cities

Authors: Zachary Hilliard, Tristan Stapleton, Alex Eads

Problem Statement

Those who live in the City of Columbia find it difficult to traverse safely due to the lack of accessible sidewalks, crosswalks, and continued construction. Our solution should increase the safety of pedestrians who walk around the city.

Who is experiencing the problem?

Pedestrians who walk around the city.

What is the problem?

The City of Columbia is not safely walkable.